Introduction Text

This one minute promotional video for Warm Films showcases some of their social media content for companies in the broadcast, private, charity and government sectors, such as the Royal Academy of Arts, the NHS and Heritage Fund.

It includes a variety of filmed examples of their work, documenting the breadth of their experience, filming a wide range of different people in different scenarios, from artists and athletes to people on the street and a pregnant mum in hospital.

Audio Description note : Male voice reads the graphics on screen, the female voice is the audio description of the pictures.
